FRAMING

FRAMING

Framing is the technique of drawing attention to the subject of your image by blocking other parts of the image with something in the scene.

Frames for photographs come in all shapes and sizes and can include shooting through overhanging branches, shooting through windows, using tunnels, arches or doorways – you can even use people (for example shooting over shoulders or between heads)

Your task is to take five photos of framing

- 2 or 3 shots of subjects framed by things in nature
- 2 or 3 shots of subjects framed by man-made objects

Grading: Each picture will be evaluated on a scale of 1 to 5. The focus will be on the tips mentioned below.
